Description

Beautiful set of sugar bowl accompanied by its jug in rich Paris porcelain with a raw green pattern from Sèvres (unsigned), decorated with gold palmettes and garlands & falling flowers, golden handles like the spout of the teapot or coffee pot, the handles of the sugar bowl are charming like the hats of the two pieces with golden handles in pine cone plume, the green top also pretty and decorated with scrolls and palmettes. The prestigious decoration of these pieces is certainly the work of the quality of Sèvres, and this set from 1820/30 is in the mixed style of Louis XVI with the touch of Charles X (pamettes). These pieces with beautiful gilding and wonderful colors in good condition have a real decorative power, they are of great refinement and deserve a beautiful place in a
