Description

DOUGLAS MONT Pair of tripod stools in "yakisugi" wood or burnt wood technique originating from Japan, 20th century A pair of tripod stools beautifully designed by French designer Douglas Mont. A thick beveled seat rests on three spindle-shaped legs. Burnt oak finish with visible wood grain, each stool is individually and manually treated by wood craftsmen in France, signed under the base. Designed in 2019 by Douglas Mont, the RISPAL stool is inspired by farm stools, both rustic and authentic. It is not a tribute to Charlotte Perriand, rather a nod to this simple world of yesteryear, a sturdy tripod topped with a beveled seat, with its beautiful thickness of slightly curved wood, soft and comfortable. Dimensions: Height: 31/36 cm

Diameter: 34 cm Price for the pair: 600 euros s
