Description

This solid wood entryway unit stands out for its timeless elegance and ingenuity. Designed to provide a discreet and refined storage solution, it perfectly combines aesthetics and practicality. The wood, of remarkable quality, has a warm patina that gives character to the whole, while the pediment is decorated with a fine shell sculpture, the signature of its classic and refined style. Equipped with a built-in mirror, this piece of furniture allows you to do a final check before going out, while visually enlarging the space. The four wooden hooks, harmoniously placed on the front, offer sufficient capacity to hang jackets, coats and accessories in an organized and elegant manner. A small wooden shelf, located just below the mirror, adds a functional touch by providing a space dedicated to small everyday objects, such as keys or purses. The true originality of this piece of furniture lies in its ingenious design: the front opens, revealing a storage space composed of several shelves that allow you to organize shoes or other objects optimally, while remaining invisible from the front. This detail makes this piece of furniture a complete solution, ideal for optimizing the space of an entrance while maintaining a neat look. At its base, an umbrella stand is finely integrated, embellished with elegant curves, to ensure complete functionality. The general condition is very good, with some traces of life, highlighting the quality of manufacture and the care taken in its conservation. The noble materials and the craftsmanship make this piece of furniture a unique piece, capable of enhancing any entrance with charm and sophistication. Circa 1970
