Description

Stunning wall consolle in carved wood gilded with pure gold leaf, of Emilian manufacture from the end of the 18th century. It is an example of high manufacturing, characterized by detailed and refined craftsmanship. The carved wood features refined details, with geometric decorations and floral elements that blend harmoniously with each other. The pure gold leaf gilding gives the console a splendid brightness and shine. The band under the consolle has a straight and clean shape, which widens slightly outwards. It is supported by four pilastered truncated cone legs, which culminate in an elegant square before the connection. The consolle top is made of light red Verona marble, of excellent quality. This high-quality material has an exceptional patina, which gives the console further refinement.
