Description

Helmet ewer in solid silver. The circular foot has a row of gadroons, a plain ogee ringed with a flat band and a simply molded collar. The body is divided into three parts by means of molded fillets and a band. The handle, formed by scrolls, is topped with an imposing stylized leaf, one end of which is fixed to the neckline. Work similar to the model of the first helmet ewers made towards the end of the 17th century.

Work by Maison PUIFORCAT around 1950

Minerva hallmark and goldsmith's hallmark signed PUIFORCAT Paris in full.

Dedication under the base: "Paola & Letizia BUITTONI with all their gratitude - December 1952".

Weight: 790 grams.
