Description

Rare and beautiful walnut master's chest of drawers containing an office-inkwell kit. This small piece of furniture, molded on all sides and with a curved front, is of admirable mastery of lines and is comparable to Bordeaux productions of the 18th century. The key allows you to open the lid and remove the front mounted on a slide. The interior is composed of a locker and two drawers, including the bottom one, which still has its inkwell, its sprinkle box and a compartment, all in brass. The interior of the lid is adorned with green silk velvet and gold thread laces. We can note the remarkable sinuosite of this small piece of furniture, the delicacy of the curve of the feet and the presence on the front crosspiece of a sculpted fleur-de-lys. French provincial work from the 18th century. Small restorations of use.
