580 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Enamel

Height : 31 cm

Description

China, 1900s-1920s, early Republic period, superb and large pair of cloisonné enamel vases on copper in the shape of a baluster with a very pretty and rich floral decoration in tones typical of this period. The rim of the top and base of the neck has a garland of linghzi, a mushroom symbolizing longevity and happiness. The whole is extremely refined. Height 31 cm. The scale indicator in the last photograph is a small model of a lighter from a brand known to all.

Good condition except for slight wear most certainly due to friction; very little visible and barely perceptible to the touch and without affecting the beautiful aesthetic. No shock or crack.
