Description

Beautiful life-size plaster cast of the singing angels by Luca della Robbia. The bas-relief was part of a collection of plaster casts from a Florentine collector and faithfully represents the original work present in the sculptor's famous choir. This sculpture, created for the cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore in Florence and now kept in the Museo dell'Opera del Duomo, shows four angels with their mouths open while singing. The cast, located for a long time at the entrance of a historic Florentine building, is of high quality and has acquired a patina that makes it similar to the original. Florentine manufacture from the end of the 19th century.
