Description

Two tapestry doors either from Aubusson, Beauvais or from the Bouvard and Mathevon house in Lyon. (Percier and Fontaine) Work in the spirit of Louis XVI with a crown and laurel branches, wicker baskets decorated with a composition of overflowing flowers and foliage, garlands of flowers and doves of Love, all framed by a frieze of intertwined laurel, flowers and trimmings. The dominant colors are red, pink on a beige background. The tapestries are mounted and stapled on plywood and are easily removable. Wear at the bottom left is visible in the last photo.
