Description

Rare square cabaret table forming a games table, made in the late 18th or early 19th century. This very elegant table has a beautifully scalloped and molded belt. There is a central drawer on each of the four sides. The legs are very curved and very fine, giving a lot of lightness and elegance to the whole. The top of our table is covered with beautiful cognac-colored leather decorated with a gold frieze with a small iron. This leather is probably not original (see detailed photos with slight spacing between the edge of the leather and the wood). Superb patina.
