Description

This cabaret table appears as a perfect success of 18th century furniture, and is distinguished by its refined sobriety highlighting the brilliance of a beautiful cherry wood. At first glance we note the superb line of the foot whose curves are placed very high, the cutouts of the belts animated by a fretwork both flexible and powerful. Topped with a thick hollowed out top profiled with a double molding, it opens on the front face by a drawer equipped with a button. ... refined born from the fashion of new drinks of salons, tea, chocolate then coffee, table whose solid top is hollowed out over its entire surface to form a sort of bowl with a slightly rounded edge intended to hold cups and glasses.
