Description

"Rare set consisting of a Secretary and a Chest of Drawers from the Empire Period in Mahogany, Blue Turquin Marble and Gilded Bronzes" We offer an exceptional set from the Empire period, consisting of a secretary and a chest of drawers in mahogany, topped with a blue turquin marble. These pieces, from a very high quality Parisian production, are distinguished by the remarkable work of the bronzes, reminiscent of the style of Thomire, as well as by their cabinetmaking, in the tradition of Jacob Desmalter. The small projection on the top, rare for furniture from this period, brings a unique charm and testifies to exceptional know-how. Although the absence of a stamp prevents us from identifying the creator with certainty, the quality of the details suggests an expert hand. A rare set, with modest
