Description

Émile TESSON (19th - 20th century) - "Flock at the Pond" Oil on relined canvas. In this rural scene, the Norman painter Émile Tesson captures a moment of rural life, immortalizing a flock peacefully drinking at the edge of a pond. The composition reflects a calm and bucolic atmosphere, while the mastery of the shades of green and brown testifies to his attention to detail and his love for the Normandy landscapes. Tesson, known for his realistic approach and his rural scenes, infuses this work with an authenticity that invites the viewer to feel the very essence of the Normandy countryside. The canvas, relined to ensure its conservation, retains all of its original charm. Dimensions: 59x91 Condition: Very good general condition after relining
