

Sculpted Entwined Loves - Flanders 17th Century

9 400 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Oak

Height : 71

Description

Oak sculpture with black patina.

Our sculpture depicts two seated putti (or cupids) embracing each other in a gesture of tenderness rarely seen in Baroque sculpture. These two embracing cupids, probably originally having had their counterpart, were designed to decorate a chapel. Their position was studied so that they would sit in the corner of an entablature, as shown in the photographs.

Provenance: Count Gérard de Léotoing d'Anjony

Height: 71 cm
