Description
-------------

Jozef (Jos) van Acker "Ode to the woman (137cm)". Bronze appearance, this green patina wall sculpture was made of resin by the artist and dates from the 1960s/70s. Recalling the theme of Adam and Eve, the sculpture depicts four naked women around a tree of life. Biography: Jozef VAN ACKER (1937-2024) is a Belgian sculptor, trained at the Royal Academy of Dendermonde, with sculptors Jos De Decker and Koen Muller (1961-65). Numerous study trips to Europe. Works mainly in wood, stone, marble, polystyrene, terracotta. In recent years, some works will be cast in bronze. Initially, he works in the style of his masters; then develops a personal abstracting style. Teacher of the youth workshop of the Academy of Waasmunster (1974-80). Member of the Waasmunster Art Circle. Works
