Description

Side table - end table in polychrome enamelled lava stone on a red background, decoration on the theme of the game. The base is in black patinated metal. This piece is not signed, it was probably part of a set of several tables of identical sizes. Traces of oxidation on the metal frame but no accidents or restorations. Around 1950-60. Vera Székely was born in Hungary in 1919. Arriving in France with her husband Pierre Székely, they created a ceramic workshop in Bure-sur-Yvette (91) helped by André Borderie at the end of the 1940s. The utilitarian pieces, sculptures or tables are sometimes signed "SZB" or Székely-Borderie. Each creation is unique, they produced, among other works, a wall decoration in ceramic tiles for the ornamentation of the Bateau Ivre. The group split up at the end of the 1950s, and Vera
