Description

Three-piece set in 800 silver from the mid-20th century, regularly hallmarked, consisting of a coffee pot, milk jug and sugar bowl, produced by the master silversmiths of Palermo. Its simple and elegant line harks back to a taste typical of the Empire period, with a delicate workmanship depicting small palmettes on the base and upper parts of the three pieces. The finishing of the final part of the spout of the coffee pot depicting a lion's head and of the knob of the same and of the sugar bowl depicting a small pine cone are very beautiful.

PERIOD Mid-20th century
