Description

Rare and a real curiosity that this delicious little table in natural cherry wood with two tops and a drawer in the belt, well chavillé and assembled in the 18th century in the pure Louis XV style (around 1774), the low edged shelf serves as a spacer for such fine and elegant legs giving it stability, the high belt topped with a beautiful top with a fillet has a drawer on the front moved by a bronze button. It is obviously an occasional piece of furniture easy to place and move by its proportion and its relative lightness. . A graceful elegant piece in good condition treated without parasites and little attacked. Charming, useful and decorative piece of furniture...
