

Victor Hugo, Written On A Letter From Les Essarts With A Photo Of Carjat

350 EUR

Signature : Victor Hugo

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Paper

Description

Victor Hugo wrote "Goddesses, now, open the Helicon for me." on a letter that Emmanuel Des Essarts, who had just attended the wedding of Frédéric Mistral, sent him to convey the tributes and wishes of the poets of Provence including Félix Grap. A phrase from Virgil that Hugo would borrow for the Legend of the Centuries. Attached is a photo representing Hugo around 1870, a snapshot (8 x 10 cm) by Carjat Etienne, Fareins, Ain (01) (France) 1828 - Paris (France) 1906, photoglyp., Lemercier et Cie, Paris Carjat was a French journalist, caricaturist and photographer, best known for his portraits of Parisian political, literary and artistic figures in the late 1800s.

Dealer

Fourrel de Frettes

Antiquites de le Breche, Bazas 33430

Mobile : 06 07 34 10 82

7 rue Théophile Serviere, Bazas 33430

Bazas 33430