Description

Superb large tulip vase, late 19th century, Second Empire, in red and amber crystal, on a pedestal. Twisted "baluster" body, mounted on a pedestal with a wide base. Large "tulip" neck, greatly flared and magnificently worked with a clamp of nervous and very accentuated festoons. Very beautiful glasswork with a cane, superbly mastered. This vase is in superb condition. A mark should be noted on the edge of the foot, which is not a chip, and corresponds to a trace of unfortunate clamping. Beautiful crystalline and clear sound under the fingers... Height 34 cm; top diameter 21 cm; weight 1.220 kg. Extremely careful shipping in addition, mainland France, via Mondial Relay or Colissimo, other destinations: to be defined according to distance.
