Description

"Art Deco Aubusson carpets under the direction of Paulette Née"

High-end carpets, handcrafted.

Created by the painter Paulette Née at Aubusson.

She began her carpet collection by turning some of her paintings into hand-knotted carpets. She immediately moved towards high-end manufacturing, which remains an important principle today. Making my carpets in Nepal, by a small group of companies in the center of Kathmandu.

Over time, she specialized in traditional, high-end hand-knotted carpets :

Hand-knotted carpets are the noblest. They are woven in an entirely artisanal way.

They are very dense in wool (90,000 knots per m², with at least 3 strands of wool per knot), which makes them very resistant.

Signed in the weft.

Size : 277x200 cm

Condition : Good condition.

The carpet is not on a white background but on an off-white background as in the last 2 photos
