Description

This large Medici style porcelain vase features delicate floral decoration, typical of 19th century decorative art. The hand-painted floral motifs feature roses and other flowers in soft tones, enhanced by gold accents on the rim and handles of the vase. The finely crafted gold handles add a touch of classic elegance to the ensemble. The vase rests on a circular base, also decorated with flowers and edged with gilding, bringing stability and grandeur to the piece. This vase is a magnificent example of 19th century porcelain craftsmanship, ideal for classic or antique style interior decoration.
