Description

Superb Louis XV style office chair, probably made in the 19th century. The model is particularly sculpted, decorated with foliage, falling flowers, the decor of the base and armrests still evoke the regency. It is entirely pegged, and not glued, which causes the nice little noise of period seats when you move it. The rust velvet upholstery, patinated, but elegant, and the padding in good condition. Its quality of manufacture, makes this seat a useful complement in a period interior Seat height: 50 cm
