

Malachiet Freeform On Custom Stand

1 850 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Other

Width : 21

Height : 36

Depth : 8

Description

Exceptional specimen of free-form malachite on foot. Malachite is a copper carbonate hydroxide mineral. It is often found in nature with the related azurite. Malachite was worked as a gemstone very early on. In ancient Egypt, it was made into cameos, amulets, and ornaments. The Greeks and Romans of classical antiquity were familiar with malachite. The pulverized mineral was used as makeup and as a dye for paint.

Dealer

Rietveld Antiques

19th and 20th century antiques and decorative pieces

Mobile : +31624758505

Domeinenstraat 20

Mill 5451