Description

Democratic Republic of Congo, Luba/Hemba people, mid-20th century, very pretty little caryatid seat in very patinated engraved wood depicting a female character sitting on a circular base with a border decorated with geometric patterns. The sculpture of the character is remarkable and represents the evocative power of the woman, the proudly raised chest, a sign of fertility and the prognathous face full of confidence. It is worth noting the sculptor's attention to detail; as evidenced by the engraved border, the digitized hands and the proud posture. Condition: stabilized cracks and old restorations without affecting the beautiful aesthetics. Height 20 cm. Diameter at the top 18 cm. Diameter at the base 17.5 cm. We take particular care with our packaging by using optimum protection. Shipping
