Description

- Fountain mouth depicting a faun's mascaron, 19th century work in an 18th century style.This patinated bronze mascaron is that of a faun with pointed ears, a wavy beard, bushy eyebrows and a mysteriously arranged headdress. His smile, outlined by his widely open mouth, and the exotropia of his gaze give him a laughing air. The lively expression of this faun is rendered with force thanks to vigorous and detailed chiseling; we can notably cite the hairy apparatus described with great concern for realism.- Good condition.- Dimensions: Height: 36.2 cm, Width: 29.5 cm, Depth: 7.5 cm
