

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Cambodia, Khmer Period, 12th-13th Century

5 700 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Bronze

Description

Statuette Depicting a Dancer

Cambodia, Khmer Period, 12th-13th Century

Bronze

H. 13 cm

H. with base : 18 cm

Provenance:

Private Collection, Paris

Published:

Exhibition Catalog: La Reine Margot, Mythes et
Légendes 39 - Archéologies 2006/2007, no. 8511

The dancer is depicted performing a graceful movement. With bent legs, the right leg extended forward, the back slightly arched, the left arm

Dealer

ES Works of Art

Haute époque, antiquités

Mobile : 0677286074

sur rendez-vous

Paris 75018

raised with the palm facing upward. The left hand holds a budding lotus flower. The dancer is dressed in a short sampot with a prominent knot at the back. The hair is styled in a conical bun, and the earlobes are elongated.

The statuette is notable for its dynamic energy and the subtle nuances of its patina, combining deep green, light green, and azure blue patches of azurite.