Description

Nude with red sheet by Many Benner. Oil on canvas signed lower left. Intimate setting and particularly neat background with the textile of the cushions in the background of the wall, the nude is highlighted on a sheet in red tones. Many Benner excelled in these nudes that made his reputation. It was probably the advice of Jean Jacques Henner, an internationally renowned artist and friend of the Benner family, that allowed Many Benner to master the rendering of the flesh tone with such realism but often treated in an intimate setting. These atmospheres with soft lights were magnified by the presence of fabrics whose rendering of the material and color was particularly neat. Oil on canvas signed Many Benner. Gilded wooden frame. Benner Emmanuel-Michel, (1873-1965) known as Many,
