Pair of large, high-quality chandeliers in the 18th century style with eight lights with plant decoration in very similar shades of green, decorated with multiple pendants in the shape of leaves, pears and grapes.
The latter have a deeper and brighter green color in harmony with the structure.
In the center, a large crystal bowl (diameter 31cm) from which six volute-shaped light arms each carry a candle on a crystal bobeche. The bulbs has the form of a flame.
Two other lights are in crystal pieces: A flared basin pointing upwards hides the first, the second is under the chandelier in a cup and gives moiré
