Description

Very pretty Louis XV period chest of drawers in Oak, with a double crossbow front and curved sides. It has a very interesting set of pull handles and lock entries in wrought iron. The quality of execution is remarkable and constitutes a real ornament in itself. The 2 front legs end in a "snail" scroll, the 2 rear legs are straight. A molding underlines the curved sides. 18th century chest of drawers, Louis XV style, from the Center of France, or perhaps from Ile de France.
