Description

These Cuban mahogany chairs rest at the front on turned, faceted and constricted legs ending in small casters. At the back, the legs are slightly moved in the spirit of a whiplash. The seat, squared, redone in the traditional way, is highlighted by a molding. The back, sober, ends in a gendarme's hat. These chairs are covered with a fabric after studding that can be upholstered in the taste and colors of its owner. Their perfect dimensions, their wood type and the customization of the fabric are all reasons to acquire these chairs.  Period: Early 19th century Excellent condition Waxed finish Delivery possible in France and internationally.
