Description

Wall light or "arc" bracket in chromed steel, adjustable orange lacquered reflector, anonymous edition from the 1970s. This light was produced to compete with and imitate the famous "Spider" lamps by Joe Colombo. The wall light is anchored to the wall, a tightening screw allows it to be raised or lowered on the vertical plane and to rotate it to the right or left of the horizontal plane (screw axis in transparent acrylic). A second screw, near the reflector, allows it to be oriented about 360 degrees. Very good condition, slight signs of normal wear (Provenance: Showroom of an old chandelier). H 70 CM XL 83 CM XP 24 CM. Reflector H 24 CM XP 10 CM XL 8 CM. Signs of normal wear. See this wall light on Vintage Addict
