Description

Magnificent set of four salt cellars from the Empire period.

The salt cellars rest on three lion paw feet topped with winged women's terms supporting a frieze of palmettes.

The quality of the half-human - half-animal figures is remarkable, the wings are finely detailed, as are the faces

The interiors are in channel-cut glass. One of them is thicker, it is probably later.

The salt cellars are hallmarked:

. 2nd rooster hallmark 1st title for 950 silver in Paris between 1809 and 1819
