Description

Here is a desk that is very representative of the Art Deco style, both classic and modernist. This is a French work circa 1925. This piece of furniture is double-sided. It is made of oak with a magnificent Macassar ebony veneer. It has two boxes, each containing three solid oak drawers. The two doors are fitted with magnificent silver-plated bronze handles and each have their own key. This desk has been completely restored in accordance with the rules of the art and polished with a buffer. The work has been very neat. Its studied dimensions offer it a comfortable work surface in a contained space. It is therefore perfectly suited to all sizes of rooms. Here is a piece of furniture with classic and refined lines allowing it to easily adapt to almost all types of decor.
