Description

The artist

Nicolas Edward Gabé was born in Paris in 1814.

He exhibited at the Paris Salon between 1835 and 1864. Specializing in miniatures at the beginning of his career, he acquired a certain celebrity by painting the events of his time, such as scenes from the 1848 revolution. He further expanded his repertoire over the years, painting still lifes and seascapes, highly appreciated by collectors of his time, as well as genre scenes, such as the one we present here.

Several of his works are kept in French museums (Maritime Museum of Saint-Vaast-la-Hougue, Magnin National Museum of Dijon, etc.). Others have been the subject of public sales.
