Description

Elegant Italian serving trolley dating from the 1950s, crafted in bent wood with a dark finish and refined gilt brass details. Dimensions: 48 x 60 x 42 cm.

The structure, both sober and sophisticated, features two transparent glass shelves that visually lighten the piece and create a pleasant contrast with the warm tone of the wood. The design evokes the Art Déco aesthetic reinterpreted in a modern key, combining clean lines, harmonious symmetry and iconic materials - wood, glass and metal - in a balance of elegance and functionality.

The curved profiles and balanced proportions reflect the quality typical of Italian post-war production, still inspired by Art Déco decorative principles yet already oriented toward the simplicity and lightness of modernism.

Condition: good overall. The piece has undergone a light surface cleaning and retains its original patina. Minor age-related wear and small imperfections on the wooden surface are consistent with use over time; both glass shelves are in good condition.
