Description

A sublime piece of furniture that reflects the refinement of Art Nouveau, this bed embodies the timeless elegance and creativity of the École de Nancy, one of the movement's key hubs in France. Main Features: Material: Made from solid oak, a noble wood known for its strength and natural beauty. The carvings, crafted with virtuosity by hand, depict opium poppies and poppies, floral motifs emblematic of the Art Nouveau style, associated with the delicacy and poetry of sleep. Finish: A subtly worked patinated green paint, enhanced with a golden effect, gives the piece timeless elegance while evoking nature, transformed by a weathered and sophisticated touch. Origin and Period: France, circa 1900, in the pure tradition of the École de Nancy, an artistic movement that celebrates nature and
