Description

Impressive oil on panel signed Maurice Bizot, Montmartre artist from the early 20th century. This composition, marked by cubist influences, recalls the style of Georges Braque and explores geometric shapes and bold juxtapositions. Description: This still life, resolutely modern, presents a stylized bowl of fruit on a table decorated with geometric tiles, with fragmented and deconstructed elements. The intense red background contrasts with the linear shapes and warm tones of the whole, accentuating the energy and dynamics of the scene. The work illustrates the influence of cubism, with a search for multiple perspectives and an intellectual construction of reality. About the artist: Maurice Bizot, a painter from Montmartre, was able to integrate the modernist trends of his time while
