Description

Marble jobacco jar - 18th Century

Superb tobacco jar in red and white breccia marble, dating from the end of the 18th century. It is a sophisticated piece that testifies the refinement of the time. Carved in a red marble of great quality, its elegant and sober form recalls the classical taste that dominated the end of the 18th century.

Snuff was reserved for the elite and kept in containers that were as functional as they were decorative.
Its simple and majestic appearance makes it a beautiful decorative object.
