Description

Here is a sculpture made in a stone by direct carving. The weight is significant, count between 100 to 150 kilos perhaps (without certainty). It represents a profile of a man or woman with hair. There are gaps in several places, which also gives charm to this sculpture which comes from a workshop. It has a lot of allure. We report friction in various places, wear of patina on the character, significant gaps on the face, the hair, the bust, also note blackish dirt, gaps on the background. The work remains however in a good condition. We sell it in its juice, natural, untouched. We carried out a summary cleaning. Be careful to take into account a complicated transport, the weight is significant, count between 3 to 4 people to lift this stone. We do not have any particular information on the sculptor, except that the work
