Description

rare pair of openwork porcelain dishes with flower decoration and gold highlights, blue mark on the reverse B, facing crowned, which can be attributed to the Brussels - Scharbeek or Germany factory, late 18th century, early 19th century. I have found no trace of this mark anywhere and would be interested in any information concerning it, certain quality of old porcelain, irregularities, traces of fire and grains of sand, beautiful work of painter and gilder, all questions welcome.
