Description

This sculptural table, known as the cage table, was designed and manufactured by Pierre Cardin during the 70's. It is made of a gilded chrome and chrome metal base supporting a round smoked glass top. The base is articulated, allowing the user to put it in a square shape (as displayed on pictures) or in a diamond shape (More suitable if the table is to be used as a console, with a different glass top). Patina of time on the base and minor scratches of use on the glass, very good overall condition. France, C.1970.
