Description

Large polychrome glass stained glass window attributed to Frantz Kinnen circa 1965. Frantz Kinnen (1905-1979) born in Dudelange (Luxembourg) was a painter, designer, sculptor and stained glass window designer. Although an atheist, he received numerous commissions from churches for his splendid abstract stained glass windows. Frantz Kinnen received numerous awards at exhibitions around the world, including the Grand Duke Adolphe Prize 3 times. This stained glass window consists of 4 stained glass windows, each measuring 54.5 cm x 57.5 cm, assembled in a large oak frame. The stained glass window measures 246.5 cm x 69.5 cm (including the frame) and 230 cm x 53.5 cm (without the frame). Frame thickness: 3.5 cm 5 small cracked but very present tiles.
