Description

Original wrought iron chandelier with four light arms, each ending in a sheath to hold a candle. It is composed of twisted elements as well as hammered and riveted parts. It has retained its original gilding with traces of time, some traces of oxidation but has retained the charm of an old patina. Very beautiful craftsmanship carried out in the 1950s, for use with a candle. Could of course be electrified. Dimensions: height 86 cm at the second dome 76 cm at the first dome width 43 cm Shipping costs contact us.
