Description

This beautiful mahogany burl veneer sideboard, dating from the early 20th century, is a perfect example of the Retour d'Egypte style. This city furniture is distinguished by its elegance and refinement, characteristic of this period. It opens on the front with three drawers, including a larger central one decorated with falling rings, as well as three doors. All these elements are equipped with original locks and entrances decorated with stylized volutes, swans or palmettes in chased bronze. The interior offers shelves mounted on racks, offering great storage flexibility. The uprights with projection and cut sides, at both ends, are highlighted by caryatids, palmettes and collars in gilded bronze, finely worked. This decorative ensemble adds a touch of majesty and sophistication. The claw feet, typical of the
