Description

Charming painting representing the Barrière du Trône and its columns seen from the large basin, Place de la Nation in Paris. This fine painting "Impressionist located and dated 1892 is an oil painted on an extremely fine canvas mounted on a wooden panel and presented in a pretty frame matching in colors and generous molding. It is undoubtedly a well-mastered work like this child's head which observes you in front of this beautiful view of the 19th century of the beautiful lace of the Nation before it is invested by infernal traffic We like to dream of this large green space today very reduced. A beautiful work very nostalgic of a forgotten Paris where it was good to stroll without the electric scooters Painting in very good condition and very decorative and which emanates "Grand"
