

Mid 19th Century Two Tier Mahogany Lazy Susan

580 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Restauré par notre atelier

Material : Mahogany

Diameter : 45

Height : 38

Description

A mid 19th-century two-tier mahogany Lazy Susan. Each tier is beautifully grained and features a molded pie-crust edge, which is slightly raised for better utility. The top is supported on a hand-turned stepped base, creating a lovely shape and a beautifully balanced design. A Lazy Susan, also known as a dumb waiter, was a practical dining accessory. The top tier is static and likely held a vase of flowers or a table decoration, while the bottom tier rotates, allowing food and drink to be moved conveniently across the table without the need for unseemly reaching. Lazy Susans were particularly useful for intimate meals or tea times when privacy was desired, minimizing the need for staff to attend. As the 19th century progressed and households employed fewer servants, such

Dealer

Anthony Short Antiques

18C & 19C Fine Period Antiques, Decorative Furniture & Works of Art

Tel : 00 44 7595603348

Mobile : 00 44 7595603348

Market Square

Petworth GU28 0AH

devices became invaluable labor-saving tools. This Lazy Susan has retained its original patina and is in good condition, with some old restorations visible in the images. It dates to around 1850.