

Objet De Curiosité : Human Anatomy : Anatomical Wax Of A Form Of Carcinoma

2 600 EUR

Signature : Jules Baretta (1833-1923)

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Wax

Length : 31.5 cm

Width : 31.5 cm

Height : 35 cm

Description

Presented in its globe, a beautiful 19th century anatomical wax, in very good condition, representing an advanced form of carcinoma. Possibly apocryphal signature of Jules Baretta, dated 1885.

Charles Lailler (1822-1893), then a doctor at the Hôpital Saint-Louis, invited Jules Baretta (1833-1923), then a papier-mâché fruit maker, to join his department in 1863. Baretta quickly excelled in his ceroplasty technique and came up with waxes that matched the various clinical dermatological pathologies he encountered. In 1884, he was officially appointed curator of the Musée de l'Hôpital de Saint Louis, where he produced more than 2,000 casts. In 1889, Jules Baretta was made a Knight of the Legion of

Dealer

Aenigm'Attic

Oddities and art objects

Mobile : 0687219515

3 rue Antoine Gautier

Nice 06300

Honour.

Condition: perfect.

THE PHOTOS SERVE AS A DESCRIPTION.

For other photos, please contact me.

Signature: on the right side: J Baretta (Jules Baretta :1833-1923), possibly an apocryphal signature.

Dated: right side: 1885.

Dimensions of the globe:

Base: Length 31.5 - Width: 31.5cm.

Total height of the globe: 35 cm.

Approximate dimensions of the wax: Width +- 19 cm - Depth +-24 cm - Height +- 21 cm.

For information: the price indicated does not include delivery.

Regarding delivery: due to the fragility of the globe, it should be collected on site or collected and delivered by a professional carrier. Shipment by postal service or other possible solution but no refund will be made if anything arrives damaged.

For more paintings and objects, go to: aenigmattic.fr or on my instagram: @aenigmatticshopnice

If you sell curiosities, please write me.

For more pictures, please contact me.