Description

Rare and remarkably preserved this beautiful domed table collar in sycamore covered with patinated fawn leather, chiseled and entirely decorated with cold-stamped frame patterns, closed by a tab fitting into a front ring to possibly place a padlock there.; a fresh and beautiful sheathing of fine brown canvas in perfect condition, very clean. The lid held open by a tab which binds it this beautiful and proud chest is of an exceptional quality of finish and condition; it is however old and the ravages of time have not changed anything because it is in new condition as its owners have taken such care of it. It is a piece of orientalist "Curiosity", an element of the journey and we like to cross the immense desert and its starry nights ... An amateur piece, of adventure very decorative and useful its beauty,
