Description

Abstract oil on canvas by Peter Sprengholz (1936-1968). A Franco-German painter active in the 1950s and 60s, he settled in France in the Catalan region (Roussillon). He exhibited in Perpignan, Collioure, Céret, and Paris. His work, marked by the renewal of post-war European modern painting, explores the dialogue between abstraction and figuration through a vibrant palette and expressive texture. The artist's work is represented at the Museum of Modern Art.
